

The temporary and spatial body

Andreas Eklöf, 2016

Abstract

A series of live sculptures based on bodily interactions with tents different, the results open up new ideas of the dressed body as well as the body's relation to space. In so doing it presents a range of new aesthetic perspectives and models of dress as the intermediary of body and space (both room, architectural structure and landscape) aesthetic models of dress.

